And the numbers are growing. For schools serving the ex-patriot families of government and business organizations, this reality can be a daunting one. Not accepting a child with special educational needs is no longer a viable option for many schools. At the same time, as models for inclusion are emerging, resources – teachers and clinicians, time and funding – are sorely constrained. You are looking for innovative ways to provide those critical services to students and support your teachers and staff at the same time. International Diagnostic Solutions (IDS) is the first tele-health solution focused solely on therapeutic and special educational needs. We collaborate with families and schools to deliver a comprehensive, holistic suite of support services anywhere in the world.

In addition to working directly with students, IDS partners with you to provide support for administrators, teachers and staff including:

Office hours: Your team can access our experts for consultation and guidance, professional development and training.

Individualized professional development: We will work with your teachers and staff on specific skill development, including differentiation, screening, and supporting twice exceptional students.

Consultation: We offer solutions tailored to your unique academic environment that provide a cost-effective, accessible way for you to build an inclusive model and develop your team at the same time.

IDS services are often funded by employers and health insurance companies.
